FAQ

What is teeth whitening?

Teeth whitening is a process of cleaning and removing stains from teeth in order to restore their original and natural color. The process of teeth whitening developed by Meodental referred to as the NATURALt™ process, involves the use of Meodental's patented NATURALt™ Gel and NATURALt™ Lamp.

What causes teeth discoloration?

General day to day consumption habits such as drinking coffee, tea and wine as well as smoking, may all lead to the staining of the teeth over a period of time. The use of a certain type of antibiotics (Streptomycin) during tooth formation can also lead to what is known as tetracycline stains.

What results can be expected after using the NATURALt™ Professional treatment?

Results will vary from patient to patient depending on color of the teeth prior to treatment; however, patients can expect improvements of up to 8 lightening shades (VITA Scale).

How long do the results last for?

The results will last for as long as 18 months to 2 years but this is influenced by the eating and drinking behaviors of the patient as well as other factors such as taking certain medications and smoking. Additional treatments such as the use of the NATURALt™ Home Kit can improve and extend efficiency. Another very important factor to ensure long lasting results is to maintain excellent oral hygiene practices.
